Textbook

A First Course in Statistics by James T. McClave and Terry T. Sincich, 11th edition.

The textbook is highly recommended, but is not required. Note that this is not the latest edition of the textbook, and used copies of this edition are affordable. We will not be using the StatLab or Minitab software accompanying the textbook.

Course Resources

Canvas will contain all course materials and announcements. Contact me if you would like to be added to the course Canvas page.

Piazza will be the primary resource for questions related to homework or lecture material (in addition to office hours). The course Piazza page can be found at https://piazza.com/ucdavis/winter2018/sta13c.

Gradescope will be used to grade the exams, display graded exams, and manage the course grades. Access to the course Gradescope page will be given at a later date, after the first midterm exam. Please do not try to register on your own before then.

Homework

Weekly homework assignments will be posted on the class Canvas page, and solutions will be provided the following week. The homework will not be graded, but it is strongly recommended that you do it.

Exams

There will be two midterm exams, and a cumulative final exam. A tentative schedule is below. More detailed information about the exams will be given at a later date.

Exam	Date	Tentative coverage by date
Midterm 1	Friday February 2	January 5 - 31
Midterm 2	Friday March 2	February 5 - 28
Final	Thursday March 22, 6:00 - 8:00 PM	January 5 - March 16

Attendance at the final exam is mandatory in order to pass the class.

Grading The course grade will be based on the exams. Each midterm will count as 30% of the overall grade, and the final exam will count as 40%.

The exam grades will not be curved, but there may be a curve for the overall course grades if necessary.

Code of Conduct

Students will be expected to follow the UCD Code of Academic Conduct. It can be found at http://sja.ucdavis.edu/files/cac.pdf. Violations will be promptly reported to Student Judicial Affairs.

Special Accommodations

If you require special accommodations for lectures or exams, please register with the Student Disability Center at http://sdc.ucdavis.edu and contact me by January 19.
